

Balinese gods. "Island of Bali" [p288 foll.]

Collectively "dewas" - protective spirits, sanghyang, pitara, kawitan, all connected with the idea of ancestry. RAMA, is hisan reincarnated as a brave prince who came to save the world: or as Gadjah Mada came as the ancestor of the Balinese. Cremation releases the spirit to enter heaven & become a "dewa yang" to receive a place in the family shrine.

The bataras are Indian, but aloof "despised foreign lords like their princes" whose functions ended on their creating the world.

Batara Guna & Batara Brahma quarrelled over the creation of men (& dogs) out of clay baked.
